Successful Adoption Starts with Great Training Strategies

"Employees from multiple departments say they find monthly training campaigns, showcasing specific applications in Office 365, are just what they need to improve their skills. Other staff report that the short, on-demand training videos are helpful in learning the tricks and techniques that enable them to take advantage of many more features in Office 365. Some managers declare that they have found Evolve's on-demand training videos are just what is needed for their staff to get into the habit of continual learning."

Senior Training Coordinator
Department of Innovation and Performance, City of Pittsburgh
